Amrita varsity ties up with US varsity

Tuesday January 3 2006 16:41 IST

COIMBATORE: The State University of New York, Buffalo, United States, on Monday, signed an MoU with Amrita Vishwa Vidyapeetham to launch two new post graduate courses in MS IT Enabled Services (ITES) and MBA.

Satish Tripathi, provost and executive vice president, The State University of New York, and Dr P Venkat Rangan, vice chancellor, Amrita university on Monday, signed an agreement for educational and research exchanges.

"We are looking at every possible model for multiple exchange with Amrita, including the areas of wireless technology, medical and dental," Tripathi told newsmen.

They were looking at business plans that would sustain themselves, he said adding that the state university chose Amrita for its emphasis on research from the beginning.

Earlier, presenting seed money for specific research proposals, Tripathi said faculty development was a major issue throughout the world for, which there was no accepted model.

Most of the varsities spend less on fundamental research keeping the bottomline in mind, he said.

On the new PG courses to be offered from September this year, State University's management professor Ram Ramesh said 50 percent of the ITES professionals in Bangalore, the Silicon Valley of
