HP signs MOU with SUNY, Amrita varsity

BANGALORE, JAN11 (PTI)

HP in India today signed a Memorandum of Understanding with State University of New York at Buffalo (SUNY) and Amrita University, Coimbatore, for a dual degree programme for selected employees of HP in India.

The two-year programme will provide the selected employees at HP a new avenue to continue their education while working at any of HP's campuses in India, a company release said.

The course will focus on imparting skills in management, Information systems and business functions. At the end of this programme, participants will receive a MS in the Management of IT Enabled Services from SUNY and A MS in Management of Information Systems from Amrita University.

"The programme will help employees reach another milestone in their career. Employees will now be able to implement management and business skills in everyday IT projects. Today there is also an increasing demand for leadership within the industry. Programmes like this will help nurture and develop talent for the future", said P V Venkatachalam, Head-Application Services, India Center.

"I am sure that a joint effort like this with prestigious institutes like SUNY and Amrita University will give an edge to our employees and help them advance in their career" said Zarir Batliwala, Director, HR, HP India.
