

HINDU

Symposium on eye infections

Staff Reporter

KOCHI: The Departments of Ophthalmology and Infection Control along with Kerala Society of Ophthalmic Surgeons are conducting Nayanamritam 2010, a national symposium on ocular infections, infection control, theatre asepsis and consumer protection on Saturday and Sunday at the Amrita Institute of Medical Sciences.

Eminent cardiologist B. M. Hegde will inaugurate the function. The aim of the symposium is to highlight the latest trends in clinical practice and infection control.