Kochi, April. 1 -- Everyone in the world should be able to sleep without fear, at least for one night. Everyone should be able to eat to his fill, at least for one day. There should be at least one day when hospitals see no one admitted due to violence. By doing selfless service for at least one day, everyone should help the poor and needy. It is Amma's prayer that at least this small dream be realised. -These are the words of Mata Amritanandamayi Devi.

The renowned spiritual leader will be conferred an honorary doctorate in humane letters by the State University of New York.

The honour, the first to be bestowed on an Indian, will be conferred at a special May 25 convocation ceremony in New York, by the 164-year-old University, Dr Steven Benett of the university announced today at a news conference here.

The doctorate of humane letters has been given by the university to two other eminent personalities in its history, including the Dalai Lama.

The announcement from the State University of New York describes Amma as a "distinguished and beloved humanitarian. Amritananadmayi Devi is known throughout the world as Amma and esteemed internationally for her tireless efforts on behalf of global peace, for her commitment to education and for the far-reaching impact of her charitable organisations in relieving poverty and human suffering in India and around the world. Her renowned charitable foundation-Mata Amritanandamayi Math, leads and support humanitarian projects and services ranging from housing assistance, medical care, financial assistance and legal advice for the needy, to support for schools, orphanages and educational institutions. She is also the founder and chancellor of Amrita University in India."
