

Conference on mental health

The department of social work of Amrita University organised an international conference on nurturing mental health.

Nancy J Smyth, dean, school of social work, University of Buffalo, New York and MK Suja, chairperson, department of social work, Amrita University attended the event.