

Amrita University invites entries from all youngsters for Four Minutes for India contest

Sunday, February 05, 2017

New Delhi: Amrita University, in association with Ayudh, the youth organisation of Mata Amritanandamayi Math, is organizing a nationwide competition called "Four Minutes for India" to encourage the youth to put forth their ideas that have the potential to transform the country.

The participants can prepare a short selfie video, self-recorded speech, short film or a presentation of four-minute duration to convey their ideas effectively. These can be prepared in English, Hindi or any Indian language of choice.

Contestants of top ten entries will get the opportunity to present their ideas at Amritapuri Campus of Amrita University located in Kollam, Kerala. The winners will receive cash prizes and certificates based on their presentation.

The competition is open for high school, graduate and postgraduate students. Interested participants can send their submissions to number 7907737797 via WhatsApp or by email to 4minutes4india@gmail.com, on or before February 12, 2017.
